

Fifth Marking Period Ends

The honor roll is growing! Forty-seven students were on the honor roll for the fifth marking period, ending Friday, April 14. This comprises nearly fourteen percent of the entire student body. It is by far the best showing for the present academic year.

The honor roll included 10 seniors, 5 juniors, 16 sophomores, and 16 freshmen. Seven students (1 junior, 1 sophomore, and 5 freshmen) achieved first honors. Although only five juniors made the honor roll this period, twelve others failed to qualify in only one subject.

A steady increase can be seen in the number of students who have obtained honors during the present school year. In the first period they numbered only 35. This became 40 last period and has now reached 47. Let's try to break 50 for the last period.

Unfortunately, there were also quite a few students who failed one or more subjects this period. The next period presents the last chance for these students to raise their grades.

P.S. 159 students, less than half of the student body, received an "A" in deportment this period.

REPRESENTATIVE REPORTS TO STUDENT BODY

On Friday, April 14, 1961, at 9:05 a.m. I stepped off the train at South Station, Boston, Massachusetts. From this huge building teeming with confectionaries and jostling bodies, I set out for the State House off upper Tremont Street. Upon arriving there, my eyes were kept constantly flashing so that I might not miss anything of importance. A page directed me to the balcony of the House of Representatives, from which I took on the Acting Governor's address and the reading of acts to be considered that day. From the balcony I proceeded to the caucus room of the Committee on Constitutional Law. The group assembled there had already begun a debate on the Graduated Income Tax (one which resembles the Federal Tax).

The majority of those present were opposed to this tax and made this extremely clear. No one present dared uphold the bill for fear of the Committee which so heavily opposed it. At this point I decided to get things going.

Being recognized by the Chairman, Mr. Samuel D. Perry, I began an elaborate defense of the proposal — from a moral point of view. I rambled on until it became obvious that my speech was a pre-meditated filibuster.

At 5:30 the nuns served a buffet lunch for all present in the student dining hall.

Later in the evening at 7:30, parents and students alike crowded into the gym to see a joint concert of the Assumption Prep and Notre Dame Glee Clubs. Father Noel Collette directed the combined group and the boys and Sister Mary Patrice directed the girls. The most popular song seemed to be "Oklahoma." After the concert at 10:00, all the parents left for home.

Many Attend Parents' Day

A great number of parents, accompanied by their sons, undaunted by fog, rain, and occasional snow, gathered in the APS hallways on Sunday, March 19, for the biennial Parents' Day. The day was a dreary one outdoors, but nevertheless a very active one indoors.

The parents arrived between 1:15 and 1:45 and assembled in the gym. There, from 1:45 to 3:00, Reverend Miles L. Fay, S.J., Dean of Admissions at Holy Cross, gave an informative lecture concerning college entrance requirements.

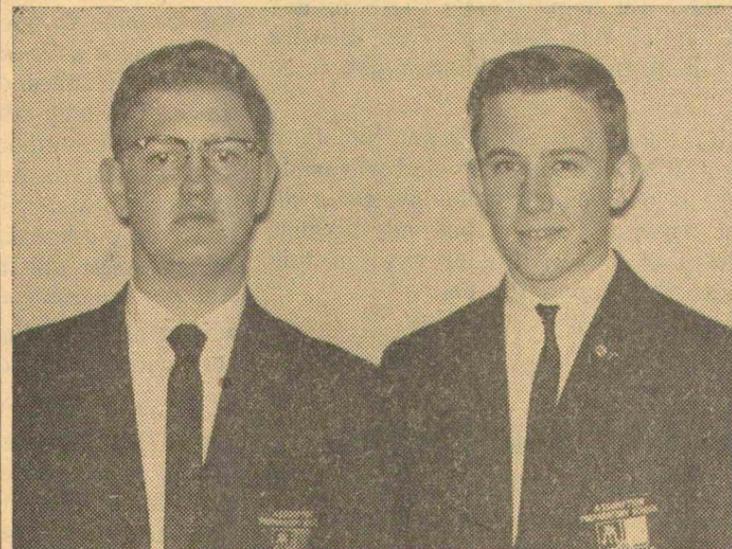

Interviews with the teachers were held from 3:00 to 5:30. Many people, waiting for their turns, filled the halls. Peter Shaughnessy took advantage of the times and opened a branch of his store in Study I; he made over one hundred dollars. The jackets and shirts sold like hotcakes.

TWO EDITORS NAMED TO HEAD HERITAGE

The co-editors of the Heritage for the next year are Michael Manning and Roger Misiewicz.

Michael Manning, on the right, is a sophomore day student who is in a majority of "A" classes. He is frequently on the honor roll, and his favorite subject is geometry. He played intramural sports and participated in the chess tournament, where he enjoyed a measure of success. He has many outside interests, the most prominent being a facility for electronics.

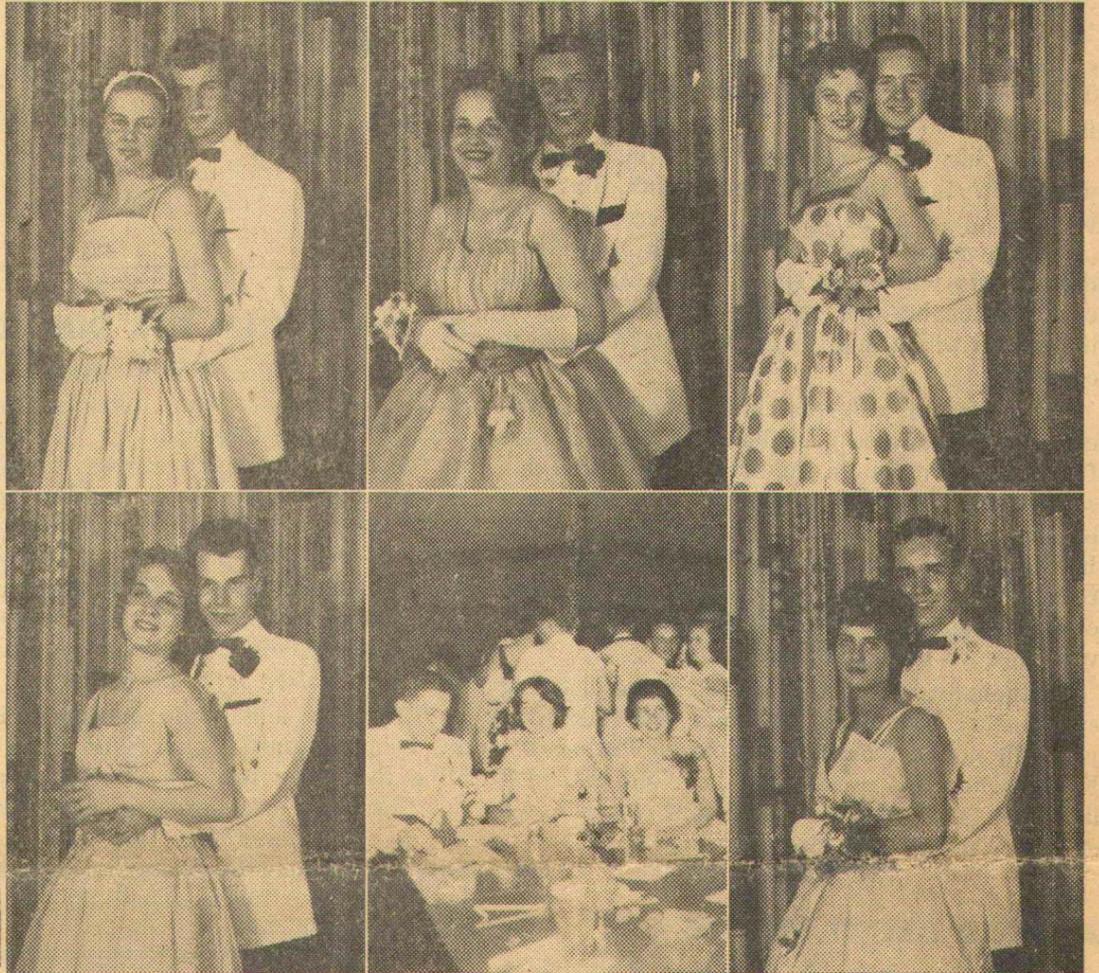

On the left is Roger Misiewicz, who is, like Mike, a sophomore day student and is in a majority of "A" classes. He is sometimes on the honor roll too, and his favorite subjects are English and history. In his freshman year he played football for the Monks but this year he is on the tennis team. He is a contestant in the ping-pong tournament and was runner-up in the chess tournament. He also has many outside interests and is a voracious reader.

When the two new editors were asked for a comment, they replied,

JUNIORS-SENIORS HOLD GALA PROM AT CITY'S ITALIAN-AMERICAN CLUB

On the cool but beautiful Friday night of April 7, the class of 1961 presented its Junior-Senior Prom at the Italian-American Club on Lake Avenue in Worcester.

After spending hours polishing and cleaning their cars and themselves, the handsomely tuxedoed boys arrived with their beautiful dates at the romantic ITAM Club, which overlooks the shimmering waters of Lake Quinsigamond.

Waiting at the door for the young ladies and gentlemen were two surprises. One of them was "Shrewsbury" St. Pierre and his helpful group of sophs, and the other surprise was teddy-bear favors for the young ladies. The teddy-bears went over big (one girl latched on to "Shrewsbury" by mistake), and the girls looked quite pleased.

The couples stepped into the beautifully panelled ballroom having come from as near as Worcester and as far as Madewaska, Maine.

The Club began to fill with beaming couples around 8:15, and they were immediately greeted by the enchanting music of Tony Agbay and his orchestra, which consisted of five men, playing drums, a guitar, a sax, a bass, and a piano.

Most of the couples had arrived by the time 8:30 had rolled around, but a few stragglers arrived as late as 10:00, because of a mix-up between the Italian-American Clubs in Webster and Worcester.

Tony Agbay and his boys kept the tempo of most of the dances fairly slow until they took a break at ten o'clock; but after the orchestra returned from their drinks of water, the cha-cha's and even Heritage Interviews Father La Farge S.J.

According to the associate editor of the Catholic weekly magazine, America, the Peace Corps shows promise of being a powerful force on the world scene.

Rev. John LaFarge, S.J., expressed these sentiments last April 16 at the Father John Power Center while addressing the members of the Worcester Diocesan Federation of Newman Clubs. He said that the Peace Corps plan will be much better than merely shipping off merchandise and money to the countries concerned, but he also cautioned that this would not be an easy undertaking. This will be a tough job on the bodies, nerves, and moral fibers of every individual. Therefore, each Peace Corps member must be prepared for the assignment, and join the organization with a spirit of self-sacrifice and humility.

NEW FRONTIERS

Recently, the Catholic Youth Council, under the inspiration of Father John Martin, came up with the idea for a "press club" consisting of members from newspapers from all the Catholic High Schools in Worcester. A meeting was held on April 10, and members of the newspaper staffs from Assumption, Holy Name, Notre Dame, St. John's, St. Mary's, St. Peter's, and St. Stephen's were present, Ascension being the only school not in attendance.

The main purpose for calling the meeting was to see if the schools would want to act together to arrange "press conferences" with some of the distinguished people who come to Worcester to speak. It was felt that this could be accomplished if all the schools acted as a whole. This idea was very well received by all those present.

This idea was enlarged upon in a group discussion that followed. One point that was brought up was the use of press cards by the people covering these affairs. It is hoped that these cards will carry some weight in the Diocese, and enable the reporter to go to many of the events which might otherwise not have been covered.

This idea of a "press club" should be a welcome bit of news to you, the reader. The reason for this is twofold. In the first place, it will add some variety to the fare of news, as we will now be able to have a much larger area of coverage. In the second place, we will have the chance to receive some scholarly criticism on the make-up of the newspaper, and the quality of the Heritage will improve because of this.

Although much of this is still in the planning stage, some concrete steps have been taken, as you will notice from one article on Father DeFarge. Therefore, a step in the right direction has been taken, and that is all that can be asked and expected at this stage.

A WORD ABOUT SERVICE

The word service is often heard during a lifetime. We read about a soldier, a doctor, or a statesman who dedicated his life to service. We say, "What a great guy he was."

We read Dr. Tom Dooley's book Deliver Us From Evil and say "What a great guy he was!" That's usually the end of it. Perhaps we may read his second and third books, and again we utter the same refrain: "What a great guy he was!"

We look up to all sorts of people — basketball players, musicians, presidents. However, this is the land based on the principle that all men are created equal. If so, instead of looking up to others all the time, why don't we start looking across and seeing each other working for humanity? We have the means to do so.

Why don't we start looking down to see the various ways in which we can bring up those who haven't got it so good? Sure, it's easy to say that someone else doesn't concern you, but that is not the right attitude.

A NEW SYSTEM FOR DINING HALL

Recently Father Phillip altered the method in the dining hall. Many reasons prompted this change, but the foremost one was the fact that he felt the time spent there was merely one hectic rush instead of a break and the time for rest as it was supposed to be. As you can see by the cartoon, this new method intends to stop the usual rush and thereby make dinner more relaxing. The waiters now serve only one course at a time, and seconds are only gotten after all firsts have been gotten from the kitchen.

The principle is sound, and the desired results are being attained. Some of the boys are grumbling that they fear they are slowly starving, but this is an exaggeration. True, miracles are not being achieved, but they were never promised. I think that the dining hall system has been improved, and this is something that we should all be thankful for.

If we are all equal, then why is it that some of us need to be helped? Why, if they are the same as we are, haven't they seized their own opportunities for self-service? That's easy for us to say, but what about the person in South America who has only a dart gun, a grass hut, a wife, and thirteen children? How is he going to help himself or others? What is there for him to grasp on to?

It's our duty to put something there so he can help himself. Why? Well, since this is a Catholic school, there must be no hesitation in bringing out the doctrine of the "Mystical Body." I'm good; it's not my fault what happens to the other guy. But perhaps it is.

Okay! Okay! I'll help. What's there to do? How can I do it? One answer is the Service Corps. Let's help those who haven't got it so good.

Oh yes, it's another mercy mission, but it's a necessary one. Why? Because mankind was made to be happy. If one man is unhappy, so is all mankind. In practice it is not, but only because it doesn't want to look at the problem in this light. So, with that comes the end:

"Is everybody happy?"

If not, let's serve!

A FEW PARTING WORDS TO ALL

The waning school year is now swiftly drawing to a close, and on reflection all does not seem as bad as it once did, does it? There are only a few more days left of school, so let's really work for a last big push. After all, the last marking period has just been closed and all that is left on the agenda are the final exams. Go into them

STATE OF THE SCHOOL

By the Dean of Students

In looking back at the year's activities program, I have noticed a pattern that seems to repeat itself periodically — that at the opening of the school year some clubs and intramural teams experience considerable difficulty in getting their feet off the ground and that the interest, initiative and momentum come only months later. It would seem that for an activity to function well and especially to survive the school year, an efficient and energetic start be a prime requisite.

As you read this column, your CYC officers, workshop Director, Memini editor, and possibly other club members will have been elected. One possible suggestion would be to have the newly elected officers begin laying the foundation for next year's activities right now. Isn't it possible that much frustration and confusion could be avoided if the class of '62 began soliciting year-book patrons during the summer? Likewise, the editors of this paper could begin planning the rough framework for next year's issues. The first issue could possibly be anticipated during the summer and the work distributed immediately at the opening of the school year. The CYC president, officers and committee chairmen could start thinking about their future duties and begin compiling ideas, suggestions and possible projects during the summer months. The above suggestions may be applied to all club members as well. It might be worth a try!

ON ACTIVITIES

An interesting point came up in Greek class the other day. We were discussing various aspects of the study of classical languages, and Mr. Palaima remarked that it was odd that no Latin or Greek club had ever been formed here at Assumption.

Having clubs such as these would be quite beneficial; but the fact is that if they were formed, who would be the members? We can't even support all the clubs and activities which exist at the present time; how can we possibly support another? The same case is the Junior Statesmen of America organization which Mr. Mondor is trying to start. Where will the members come from?

Don't get me wrong. I'm not blaming the teachers for trying to introduce these things. I'm just trying to point out that something is drastically wrong with either the activity system or the student body. It is well known around the school that many clubs and activities are doing, if they are lucky, only half-way jobs. It is my opinion that there are only two possible solutions for the malfunctioning activity system; (1) Get students to participate in a much more active and thorough way, or (2), Cut down the number of activities so that the few left in existence will be able to operate successfully.

It seems as though the first solution has been tried many times, and it has failed just as many times. The only alternative seems to be to cut down on the number of clubs and activities. But then two more problems arise. Who does the hatchet job and who gets chopped? Any suggestions? Any other solutions? The floor is open for debate. After all, it's your school.

with a happy outlook, for soon summer will be here with all its advantages.

Don't go away mad — let by-gones be by-gones. True, there have been gripes that the faculty doesn't cater to the students as much as they would like; but nothing can be done until you, the student, realize that you have only yourself to blame for the problems created.

Therefore, make the best of the few remaining school days and we of the Heritage hope you have a pleasant summer.

The play, ably directed by Mr. Edward C. Powers, climaxed almost two months of steady rehearsals.

The road to Boston began March 25, at the state semi-finals in Stoneham, at which time Doug, Pat, and Rory all received awards for their excellent character portrayals and Assumption's play and players were chosen along with that of St. Mary's of Waltham, Four Hundred Knights, to compete against twelve other schools at the Boston finals.

The boys were not victorious in Boston, but they were consoled by the fact that they had done so well for only their second year in state competition.

In The Zone was seen here at the Prep on Activity Night, Sunday, April 30, at A.R.T.S.'s contribution to the evening, which, by the way, was also organized by A.R.T.S.

Field Day Planned

The annual Field Day of Assumption Prep will be held in May on the campus. The exact date on which the occurrence will take place remains uncertain. It was originally scheduled for Wednesday, May 17th; but Mister Bibaud has hinted that it may be suddenly proclaimed on a fair day early in May. Day students would be instructed to keep old clothes in their lockers.

The program will consist of the usual rigorous schedule: prayer in the grotto at 8 o'clock; flag raising in Crescent Park at 8:05; and interclass and student faculty baseball, tennis, and horseshoe games at Rodier field in the courts and pits. Over 50 events including a pie-eating contest and track competition until 5:30; at 6 o'clock dinner will be served, awards given, and a movie shown.

With such a varied list of events, everyone should find himself at home competing somewhere, and the student reaction should be better than even the great response of past years.

GROUPS REPORT ON ACTIVITIES

C.Y.C. Brief Report

The prominent achievements that the C.Y.C. has accomplished during the year are cited as follows: the Freshmen were set under way with an outdoor cookout; Juniors and seniors enjoyed the dance, A Night in Wonderland; the student body found entertainment in the Halloween Party and the Christmas Party; all four classes took part in the football, basketball, and volleyball intramurals; some A.P.S. students joined the chess, shuffleboard, ping-pong, basketball and pool tournaments; the boys will enjoy the Activity Night coming up for April 30; and some fellows have written articles for the Heritage contest.

Other less salient achievements have been accomplished, for instance: privileges asked for by various classes have sometimes been granted; a revival of the constitution's eligibility rules have been looked into; a day off has been granted by the Bishop; and the Junior Statesman of America Club will be formed tentatively next fall.

The C.Y.C. wishes to thank the student body for its cooperation, which has made the organization a standing block for the student's needs.

The Learned Blacksmiths

Faced with a "to be or not to be" dilemma at the commencement of this, a potentially successful year, the Learned Blacksmiths took up their cross and, with one foot prematurely fastened to their burden, stumbled on here at the Prep. Being members of the Central Massachusetts Speech League, they debated monthly. A substantial freshman enrollment enabled the formation of a top-notch novice team. A frayed intermediate group debated frequently, and the varsity team saw the least action. All tournament offers were declined because of the already-mentioned handicap — the inability to cut classes. Just the same, the club on all three levels intends to take the trophy tourney in May sponsored by the league.

Mu Alpha Theta

The Mu Alpha Theta Mathematics Club of the Prep is currently making plans and arrangements for their second annual math fair, to be held in the Prep's gymnasium on Sunday, May 21st. This will be the club's second fair. Last year's fair was the first of its kind to be conducted in Massachusetts, and possibly throughout the U. S. The exhibits are restricted to the field of mathematics, and this year's thirty contestants from the state's many secondary schools should provide us with just as interesting a fair as did last year's. The fair is organized and directed by the Math Club, under the supervision of this year's moderators, Fr. Ildefonso Van der Linden and Mr. Bernard H. Tremblay. It is sponsored by Crompton and Knowles with the purpose of arousing interest in mathematics among students and encouraging the good students to investigate into new vistas. The contestants will compete for cash awards and also a special trophy, the "Valmore X. Gaucher Award." Their exhibitions will be judged by men chosen by Rev. Raymond Swords, S.J., of Holy Cross College. Much thanks is due to Crompton and Knowles, who, by their sponsorship, make this year's fair, as last year's, possible. This industry has shown very much concern with the advances being made in mathematics and their interest is evident with the encouragement they are giving students to pursue further knowledge in that field.

Paris par Ici

The A.P.S. French Club, known this year for the first time as "Paris par Ici," is planning a skit for Activity Night, April 30.

Paul Gendron, '61, as M. Jourdain, and Gregory Chabot, '62, as le "Maître de Philosophie" will stage a scene from Molière's "Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme." Paris par Ici, whose faculty moderator is Fr. Yvon Dubois, A.A., has met this year on Tuesday afternoons at Bailly Hall.

Saint John's Guild

The Saint John's Guild is an organization for boys who are considering the priesthood as a vocation for themselves. The Guild promotes discussions among these boys on ideas of interest to future priests. The following are some of the topics discussed this year: What is a vocation? Can one know with certainty if he has a vocation to the priesthood? Is a priest a double for Christ — one who must act in the same way and achieve the same results as Christ? Should

Rosary Recited On WNEB

During the nights of April 30th to May 6th, the students of Assumption were invited to attend radio station WNEB's broadcast of the rosary. Transportation will be provided for six boys per evening. On the night of May 6th, the rosary will be said with Bishop Flanagan at his residence on High Ridge Road.

The practice of saying the rosary on WNEB has been going on for five years.

future priests date?

The Saint John's Guild was responsible for the organization of the "Turkey Days" before the Christmas vacation. The money collected at this time helped five Worcester families enjoy a special Christmas meal.

The Saint John's Guild meets on Thursday afternoon at 5:30 in a third floor classroom.

Memini

The Memini, the yearbook of the Senior Class, should be available to Seniors by the time of the Senior Banquet, Marc Richard, '61, the editor-in-chief of the Memini, announced.

Most of the work on the yearbook has been completed. This includes the messages from the Bishop and from the Headmasters, the Dedication, the Class Will and History have been completed along with the Underclassmen and Extra-curricular activities sections. Left to be completed are the spring sports sections, the Superlative pictures, Field Day, and the yearbook Theme.

The editor-in-chief stated that the Memini did not suffer from any membership shortage this year.

Model Club

The Assumption Prep Model Club has had about 10 active members this year. They engaged in building models from kits and from "blank" pieces of wood. The Model Club has three rooms at Bailly Hall open every day for the members who want to work on their models.

Book Review

The White Nile, by Alan Moorehead, gives a potent picture of the explorations and the adventures of men while securing the upper regions of the Nile River. This book delves not only into the secret and mysterious sources of the Nile, however, but also explores the recesses of men's minds — for those hardy adventurers had many conflicting emotions — pride, jealousy, and the like. It took men of great courage to go to a place so forbidding as this, and so their spirits were indomitable, as also were often their egos.

The period covered is between 1856 and 1900. The people he describes range the full length of familiarity — from Livingston and Stanley, whom everyone has heard about, to the more obscure but nevertheless fascinating men such as Burton, Speke, Grant, Baker, and Gordon. "The history of the European pioneers on the White Nile is very largely a theme of conflicting personalities," writes Mr. Moorehead, and he vividly demonstrates his point.

These men were as extraordinary as the country into which they inched and the native leaders with whom they had to deal — Buganda's King Mutesa, the Khedive Ishmail of Egypt, the Khalifa Abdullah, and the incredible Moslem tyrant, the Mahdi.

The White Nile is an engrossing book on an engrossing subject, and it sheds new light, in its own way, on the convulsive changes, so ominous for the future, which are now taking place in Africa.

KNOW YOUR STUDENT COUNCIL

LEON A. FRIGON, '61, Secretary of the CYC, is now serving his first year as a member of the Student Council.

During his years at the Prep, Leon has been a very active student. He has participated in both educational extracurricular activities and athletics.

In his Sophomore year, he won the best acting award for his portrayal of the husband in The Man with the Bowler Hat. This is an achievement of which he is proud.

Leon has participated in the Dramatics and Debating Clubs, and has also worked for the Heritage. Now in his senior year, he is a member of the Memini staff.

In the past, Leon has been head waiter in the students' dining hall. This position reveals that the qualities of a leader are not lacking in this Prep student.

Among other accomplishments, Leon also plays the accordion well. Regarding athletic activities, Leon has participated in cross country and intramurals.

When Leon graduates from the Prep, he plans to enter Fordham University and then do graduate work in law.

At any rate, there is no doubt that Leon will succeed in whatever he attempts. Serious students always win in the end.

KENNETH J. MOYNIHAN, '62, has been elected to the Student Council for a second term. After having fulfilled his position as Historian successfully in his Sophomore year, Ken has again been elected to the Council and now holds the post of Second Vice President.

In his three years at the Prep Ken has participated in many extracurricular activities. Perhaps the achievement of which he is most proud is winning French Declamation two out of three times.

Ken is also the office boy for Fr. Edgar and Fr. Maurice (he likes to start at the bottom and work his way up). He has also been a waiter.

For two years Ken has participated in French Dramatics. He appeared in last year's production of Athalie and also in this year's French play, L'Annonce Faite à Marie. He has also belonged to the French and Glee Clubs.

In his freshman and sophomore years Ken was elected class president, a fact which proves his abilities as well as his popularity. He was also sacristan in the Students' Chapel during his freshman year.

Another of Ken's achievements which is probably unknown to many is his mastery of the piano.

Between all these other activities Ken has also found time to play sports. Since he came to the Prep he has played football, basketball, softball, and volleyball.

At this time Ken is undecided as to the college he will attend when he graduates, but I am sure that no matter which college he chooses he will be immediately accepted; for no college refuses intelligent students, and Ken surely is!

BRUNELLE NAMED ASSISTANT DEAN OF STUDENTS

At the beginning of the school year a new position at Assumption Prep needed filling. This position was that of Assistant Dean of Students. Mr. Edmond Brunelle was chosen for the job.

Mr. Brunelle is now an influential person in all matters concerning student discipline, deportment, and behavior. He has considerably lightened the burden of the Dean by handling most of the paper work such as marks and attendance records. He has also a voice in many of the new norms, systems, and improvements relating to the office of Student Affairs.

Mr. Brunelle was born on March 27, 1935 in Worcester and attended Assumption Prep.

In 1953, his senior year at the Prep, he was named monitor by the Dean of Students. This was the first time in the history of A.P.S. that a high school student was named to this position. After graduating, he attended Assumption College where he majored in philosophy.

He was employed at Riley Stoker Company here in the city prior to his employment here at the Prep. Mr. Brunelle is very satisfied with his position here and does everything possible to better the interests of the students.

We at the Heritage feel that we are privileged to have such a man working with us and advising us. We are equally sure you, the students, feel the same way. We wish him the best of luck in the years to come wherever he may be.

Chicken Barbecue Planned By Faculty

On June 3, 1961, the lay faculty of Assumption Prep will present a chicken barbecue on the school grounds. In case of bad weather, it will be held in the gymnasium. There will be a wheel of fortune, a stuffed animal table, ring toss game, candy table, and many other games at which many valuable and expensive gifts will be given away.

Father Ward, chairman of this function, said, "The purpose of the barbecue aims at the building of a scholarship fund to be given to outstanding students who either wish to come to the Prep or go on to college."

It will be catered by the B&J Bar-B-Que Company from Chelmsford. It is planned to start at 4:00 p.m. and continue into the early evening. The food will be served from 5:00 to 8:00 p.m. o'clock; the price of tickets is $2.00 for adults and $1.25 for children. There will be dancing after the dinner.

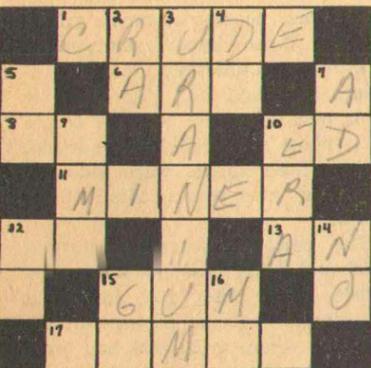

Father Ward also stated, "Seeing the effort of the lay faculty to help students, it is the sincere hope that all the students will do their part in advertising for this barbecue. If more people come, more scholarships can be given."

Bailly Hall: Past, Present, and Future

Bailly Hall, as it stands today, was set up to fill a pressing need. The activities at the Prep have been long crying for elbow room and permanent quarters.

In the summer of 1960, it was decided that the abandoned building would be just what the activities needed. An overhaul of the building prepared it for use.

As for the future, the set-up will be slightly changed. Discipline will be tightened; and the Smoking Lounge, the center of attraction, will be moved downstairs out of way of others.

GLEE CLUBS GIVE CONCERTS

The Assumption Prep Glee Club and the Glee Club of Notre Dame Academy, under the guidance of Father Noel Collette, A.A., and Sister Mary-Patrice, S.N.D., after three concerts, have given students of both schools something of which to be justly proud. The first two concerts, held in the auditorium of Notre Dame Academy on March 8th and 9th, were definite successes. Mozart's Ave Verum, the first number on the program, was devoutly sung by the handsomely attired combined group. In this, as in other selections involving a slow tempo, (Sibelius' Dear Land of Home, Russel Knight's Hall of Ivy) richness of sound was lost and phrase endings evaporated. Yet, in the more lively and big-toned selections such as Steele's America Our Heritage, and Loesser's Wonderful Copenhagen, the group "loosened up" and came forth with stirring results.

Our own choristers did extremely well singing their lively selections, Brothers Sing On, Seventy-Six Trombones, and Stout Hearted Men. The climax of both concerts came when the combined groups sang Rogers and Hammerstein's Oklahoma and they "brought down the house."

The concert presented at the Prep on Parents' Day, March 19th, was a much improved repetition of those held at Notre Dame. The choristers having had time to iron out the flaws that were apparent in the previous concerts, made an excellent impression on the capacity audience of parents and friends assembled in the gymnasium. Despite a few flaws most notably apparent in Oklahoma and Strange Music the concert was a huge success. In fact, an agent of a well-known Boston recording company has asked Father Noel if the combined group would care to make a record. Father Noel accepted the offer, and the recording sessions are scheduled to begin soon at Notre Dame Academy.

Due to their achievement, and in recognition of the time and effort that was required to attain their success, the Heritage wishes to extend a "Well done" to the Glee Club and to their enterprising Director, Father Noel.

Friends of Assumption Hold Annual Bean Supper

On April 8 of this year, the lay-faculty of Assumption Prep sponsored its annual Ham and Bean Supper.

The program began at the first sitting at 6:00 o'clock. Activities in the refectory lasted until 8:00 o'clock, at which time the band provided good entertainment and dancing music.

The supper this year was, as it has always been in the past, a tremendous success. The lay-faculty was extremely pleased with the attendance at this yearly gathering.

The drawing of the door prizes was at 9 o'clock. Mrs. Boissonneault did the honors. The big winner of the $200 prize was Louis Mondor Jr. He is currently a senior at the Prep. He plans to use this money when in Europe this summer.

We congratulate the lay-faculty for their big success and wish them as much at this year's chicken barbecue.

Although there are many far reaching possibilities, there are also pitfalls. We are now following a path of exaggerated individualism, but the Peace Corps volunteers must get the idea across that they are not doing the work for their own good, or even for the good of the underdeveloped countries, but for the good of a united world and the common good chapel and the swimming pool. Should inclement weather occur, it will be held in the gym.

The Juniors, who are staging the dance, have decided to change the theme and decor of the dance. This year's theme will be "In the Still of the Night" and the decor is something special, as yet undisclosed.

The music will be, for the most of all. This idea of unity of common spirit is the main goal, and if this notion is not brought out, the Peace Corps will go for nought.

We, as Catholics especially, Father LaFarge continued, inherit a spirit of deep responsibility to the world. The Peace Corps will open new dimensions of charity, and all charity springs from the heart of the Savior.

part, recorded. The newly-formed Junior Band, however, will grace the evening with a few of its numbers.

The guests will come from area schools. The girls from Notre Dame and Venerini Academies and St. Mary's and Holy Name High Schools have been invited.

So, all in all, it looks as if this year's May Dance, like all the others, will be a success.

Charleston's took precedence, and the Club didn't stop jumping until the soft strains of the long-awaited but much-hated last dance filled the room at midnight.

After the dancing had stopped, the lights came up and waitresses began to scurry around with place mats and silverware in preparation for the meal. When the food finally arrived it was in three courses, all served separately. (Father Philip was jotting down the technique.)

The first course was a fruit cup which was followed closely by a salad bowl. Finally, the main course arrived. It was made up of a delicious slice of hot roast beef smothered in brown gravy and surrounded by mashed potatoes and peas.

Guests of the Senior Class were Father Philip Bonvouloir, Dean of Students; Father Noel Collette; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bibaud; Mr. Richard Olson; Mr. and Mrs. Emile Trahan; and Mr. Ronald Goba.

The Prom, which was truly a "Moment to Remember," was the culmination of many weeks of hard work and planning for the executive Prom committee consisting of Alec Belisle, '61, general chairman; Robert Gray, Jr., '61; Garreth Lynch, '61; Kenneth Moynihan, '62; Paul Murphy, '61; and Peter Shaughnessy, '61.

The evening's activities ended at the ITAM Club around one o'clock. Once the traffic jam in the parking lot had been cleared,

POWERS PRESENTS HAMLET

On Wednesday, April 17, Mister Powers presented the movie Hamlet to the student body. About 150 students gathered in the gymnasium to see Lawrence Olivier as Hamlet, which many people consider to be his best Shakespearean role. The audience followed the movie intently. The movie was close to three hours long, starting at 7:30 and ending a few minutes after 10:00.

the Club was quickly deserted. After the Prom, most couples began the long (or short, as the case may be) ride home. But some of the more hardy ones went looking for further adventure. Some even went bowling.

Besides being an all too brief evening of fun, food, and folly, this year's Prom also accomplished something rare — it set a precedent. This year, for the first time in quite a few years, the Prom was held at a location other than the Assumption Prep gymnasium. The ITAM Club was rented for the incredibly low price of seventy dollars — a small sum to pay for the elimination of the problem of decorating the gym.

The whole affair seemed to have gone over very successfully. Only time will tell if any of the procedures went awry.

TRACK OUTLOOK GOOD

Sparked by the versatile ability of its co-captains, Emile Routhier and Roland Laroche, and encouraged by the return of several veterans, this year's track team looks forward to another fine season. With eight meets slated for the season, the Prep should again meet tough competition from their opponents. This year's schedule includes the New England Catholic Meet, an event in which the Monks will do battle with some very talented opponents. In the words of Coach Dubuque, the team appears to be very well balanced, due largely to the fact that, for the first time, the Monks will boast an ample supply of talent in the high jump. In that event we have Ronald Ferris, improved since last year, along with Rene Bonneau and Bill Aubuchon. The Prep will no longer be counted out of this event.

Again this year the two captains will be leading the assault in the broad jump area. Captains Laroche and Routhier can always be counted on to levy the point total through their performance in this event.

The 100 and 220 yard dash competition will be entrusted to Laroche, Routhier, and Victor Mulaire. The Prep has always boasted strong sprinters and the outlook for this year seems to be the same.

Co-captain Laroche should again lead the Prep competition in the 440. He is expected, however, to be pursued constantly by returnees Maurice Boisvert and John Offredi, two juniors seeking to help the team in this event.

Stan Stadnicki is expected to lead in the field of half-milers. Mr. Stadnicki, seen as "greatly improved" by Coach Dubuque, should figure significantly in the Monk's showing in this event as he did last year. Also in this event are many prospects, including Tom Carey, George Leonard, Denis Gosselin, Berney Marcotte, and Robert Pellerin.

The Monks should again be strong in the mile this year, although graduation incurred quite a blow in this event. The appearance, however, of Ronald Bosse, "Butch" Cormier and Henry St. Maurice is gratifying. "Doc" Devost, having looked very good in recent performances, is expected to provide strong competition for laurels in the mile.

Next, we turn to the field sports competition. Les Diccico, long a standout for the Monks in the shotput and discus areas, will aid Coach Dubuque in the development of future Prep strongmen during this campaign. In this area we have seniors Andy Popoli, Howie Gilmore, and Bruce Maillet, among others who are expected to be the major point gainers. Also included as possibilities in these events are Bill Buehner, Gary Mater, Joe Potvin, Roger Roy, Tim Dimellio, and Denis Dargis.

That's the team. Let's all get behind them one hundred percent and help them toward a victorious season.

The course is not in the least dull thanks to Fr. Joe; neither do we have reason to fear going to classes (2 classes a week), for there are no quizzes, no tasks, and no marks to worry about; an ideal course as you can readily see.

A. R. T. S.

The Assumption Reading and Theatre Society, otherwise known as A.R.T.S., with its performance of In the Zone, closes out one of its most successful seasons since its inception. The year included shadow-box interpretations of Poe for the annual Halloween party, a cooperative production of The Diary of Anne Frank starring Venerini girls in the feminine roles, a reading and pantomime of The Other Wise Man at the annual Christmas party, and, to climax the year, a victory at Stoneham in the Massachusetts High School Drama Guild Regional Festival and a chance to perform in the state festival in the John Hancock Hall, in Boston — the show, O'Neill's In the Zone.

The club also hosted two of the leads from the itinerant acting group, Players Incorporated, and laid plans for awarding pins to retiring senior members. To round out its season, A.R.T.S. gave its prize-winning show as a part of the Prep's first annual Activity Night.

Glee Club

The Prep Glee Club, under the expert direction of Father Noel J. Collette, A.A., has, after weeks of practice, come through with flying colors.

The Club is comprised of 45 boys and divided into four groups, First Tenors, Second Tenors, Baritones and Basses. This year, the Club has been privileged to have Fr. Joseph-Robert Fredette, A.A., Fr. George Charland, A.A., Brother Roger Chagnon, A.A., and Mr. Roger Bourdeau lend support with their experienced voices. This group, meeting regularly each Monday and Friday at 5 p.m., have tackled such difficult selections as Oklahoma, Seventy-Six Trombones, and Strange Music, with extremely favorable results.

MONK NETMEN READY FOR FULL SLATE

The Assumption Prep tennis team is off to a new season under a new mentor. He is Mr. Emile Trahan, former Prep graduate and athlete. He has taken over immediately and has gathered together a group of boys who have tremendous potential but lack development. Coach Trahan stated that with these boys he can form a well rounded club by the time opening day rolls around. He said that many lettermen of last year will be back to strengthen the squad.

New Tradition

When he took over as coach of the netmen, Mr. Trahan vowed that he would bring in a new tradition as far as tennis goes. He stated that in a year or so, when spring comes around, the students will not only think of baseball and track; but also of tennis. This is proving to be very true since we see many more students swinging rackets every day.

New Practice Sessions

In his new administration, Coach Trahan has inaugurated a new type of practice session where

MONKS DO WELL IN RACE

For the first time in the history of the Prep, the Monks were represented in the annual VFW Modified Marathon from Oxford, Mass., to Webster, Mass., a distance of 5.4 miles. The gruelling course which included a few tough hills and some long straightaways, was covered swiftly by the Monks, considering they had never seen the course before.

Tough Competition

The entrants in the race were made up of New England cross country runners, college students, and high school students. The competition was tremendous since many of the contestants were the finest harriers the local arrays could offer.

REPORT (continued)

High School, Worcester, backed my ideas, and due to the fact that the group was starving for the dinner I was keeping them from, they passed the Tax in the room and adjourned, hoping to defeat it on the House floor.

The afternoon began with the passage of the Motor Boat License Bill and the defeat of the MTA expansion petition. Both votes expressed my personal views on the two.

Then the trouble began. I stood and was recognized to take the floor after listening to a delegate from West Roxbury chastise the bill and its intricacies up and down in an incoherent, blustering denouncement.

Standing behind the dual microphones, I looked out over the semblage and shivered. If I backed the bill, they would turn hostile towards me and vice versa, I thought. Then I kicked-off.

Articles of any nature necessary for interscholastic or intramural competition may be obtained from the Sports Store (rear of gym).

We have an abundant supply of supporters, socks, football and basketball shoes, gloves, balls, etc.

ANYTHING can be obtained in one day.

Dee Shines

Billy Dee, a freshman, was the first Monk to cross the finish line. He finished the course in 32:23, which has in the past been winning time, but since the competition was so great it only landed him 11th place. He was followed by Denis Gosselin who finished 15 and Rollie Laroche who finished 17. A total of 14 Monks started the grind and a total of 14 finished. This is a great tribute to the track coach who trained these harriers.

All in all, the Monks turned in a standout performance and although there were not many Monk fans at the finish line the Preppers all received a good hand from the local spectators. The Heritage Sports Staff would like to congratulate these thinclads for a job well done.

represent Assumption Preparatory School in Worcester. Let it be clear to all of you listening that I have no desire to anger or overwhelm any of my opponents by those things which I am now going to present to you. I beg you only to hear me with an open mind. I am in favor of a graduated income tax. Why? Because this tax affords the well-to-do citizen of Massachusetts, who is living in Massachusetts, who is working in Massachusetts, who is living on Massachusetts' money, with the opportunity to put the most money back into the front of humanity from whence it comes.

"The low man on the totem pole is also aided by this tax in that he pays only a nominal part of his income."

by the Monks work on fundamental drills in preparation for regular practice. He also held practice during Easter vacation to tune-up the boys for their pre-season scrimmages against Holy Cross and Worcester Tech Frosh.

New League

This season the Monks will be participating in the City net league composed of North, South, Commerce, and Classical High Schools. This league will provide keener competition since the city schools are rated high. Finishing off the schedule are two meets against Fitchburg High. These two meets will be a home and home series.

Varsity and J.V.

The varsity squad, captained by Senior Jed Guertin, will be made up of ten players. At least three of these will be Junior returnees from last year's undefeated club, namely Norm Tremblay, Rolly Carrigan, and Randy Lanciault. Mr. Trahan also expects to have intersquad J.V. competition, for this year's J.V.'s will be next year's varsity.

COACH GOBA STARTS SPRING PRACTICE

For the first time in the Prep's history, the "Grid Monks" held a spring practice this year, under the capable direction of Coach Goba and his staff.

During their week's session, the coaches stressed the basic fundamentals of the "grid" sport. The value of this out-of-season training should show its worth next fall when the "Monks" take on such formidable new opponents as Auburn, Trade, and Hudson Catholic High Schools.

Physical Ed.

This year's spring practice was preceded by several weeks of rigid physical education classes under the leadership of Maurice Boisvert, '62.

New Faces

Although the "Greendalers" will not be as large as in previous years, they will make up for this lack of brawn by speed and unencumbered agility, due to the new drills initiated this year. By the time the first game rolls around next fall there will be several new faces in the starting line-up. According to Coach Goba, "There are eleven positions up for grabs!"

Sophomore Coaches

Besides Coach Goba, returning for their second year on the Monks coaching staff will be backfield coach, Peter Goodfield, and the present baseball coach, Robert Flagg. The staff's year's experience in working together should greatly benefit the team.

Monks Honored

At the assembly on April 11, Mister Bibaud, Director of Athletics, and Kevin Sullivan, CYC physical chairman, awarded trophies and plaques to the winners of the One and Two Gun Tournaments and the intramural flag football games. The winners in the One Gun Tourney were as follows: Charles Malkemus, senior; Edward Rowsey, junior; Paul Miles, sophomore; and John Dowd, a freshman. The winners in the Two Gun Tourney were as follows: Andrew Popoli and Pete Burgess, seniors; Donald Simard and Victor Mulaire, juniors; Pete Vileisis and Edward Tivnan, sophomores; and William Terrio and Charles Ga-

SPORTS EDITORIAL

By Charles Murphy

There are enough sports activities this spring to keep everyone at school busy. The baseball players have their work cut out for them with a stiff schedule to follow. The tennis team is organized this year and will probably start drawing the attention of the student body. The track team looks as if it will have a successful season; coach Dubuque has had the fellows tromping up and down Burncoat and West Boylston Streets consistently.

All these sports will be a total flop if they are not backed up by the students. Supporting the teams means more than just attending the games. We should acknowledge the players by urging them on before the games and congratulating them after the games. Let them know we're backing them up all the way. APS

Brother Paul-Maurice Monks' Athletic Trainer

Brother Paul-Maurice Gosselin, A.A., added another demanding task to his already busy schedule this year when, in September of 1960, he became the Monk's first athletic trainer. He has assumed this duty in addition to being Secretary of Student Affairs and monitor of the freshman study and the freshman dorm.

Bro. Paul is characterized by the personal interest he takes in each Prep athlete. He devotes a great deal of time to keeping the Monks in top physical condition. One very rarely enters the coach's room without finding Bro. Paul at work taping up one of our boys for a practice session or a game. In this capacity he has greatly aided Mr. Bibaud and the other coaches by removing from them the chore of having to tape their players, a practice which was employed constantly during the year, especially during the football season.

A coach no longer has to stop practice to give special attention to an injured athlete, for he knows that a fellow is in good hands if he is cared for by Bro. Paul. Our trainer is constantly at work trying to improve his knowledge of first aid by reading and by study.

students are known around the city to have a lot of spirit. We show our spirit at basketball games more than any place else because we have the best team in the city. It's great to cheer for a winning team, but the true spirit shows when we cheer for a team that has had a couple of bad breaks. There are three spring sports; this means that all the students will have to participate in backing up the teams.

There is a good intramural program this spring. It is going to fizzle out if all the available students don't back it up and take part in the activities. A great spirit of competition can be developed among the teams and in the tournaments coming up. In the past the intramural activities haven't been as good as they could have been.

There is a passivity of the student body in intramural sports. Everybody wants to watch rather than join in. Too many students are glued to the pool tables and coke machines. There is another cause of the lack of participation in the intramurals. Too many externs have the idea that school ends at four o'clock. They don't realize that these activities make school a lot easier to take.

"Bro. Paul's becoming trainer," in the words of our athletic director, "has worked out very well for us. He is greatly interested in his work and has proven to be a valuable addition to the athletic department." Certainly, we all owe a vote of thanks to Bro. Paul for the great work he has done.

MONKS TAKE SACRED HEART IN OPENING DAY GAME, 8-7

Monahan Standout in Relief

The "Monk" baseball season opened on a happy note with a neat 8-7 victory over a tough Sacred Heart team. Jim Monahan was the hero of the day for Assumption, turing in a fine relief job on the mound.

Come From Behind

Trailing 4-0, the Greendalers staged a five-run fifth inning. Jim Monahan threw a spark into the fire with a two-run base-loaded single. Sacred Heart's Gerald then loaded the bases by giving up a walk to starting pitcher Bob Kenney. The next man to face Gerald was strong hitting Ernie Charland, who drove in three runs with his double to center field, putting the Monks ahead, five to four. Before the game ended, the Prep got three more runs, one in the sixth and two in the seventh.

Starve Off Rally

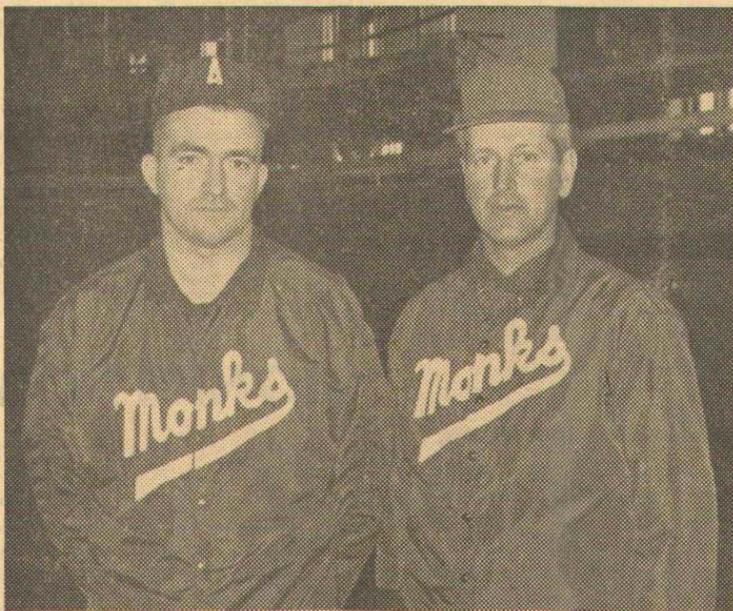

A ninth inning rally by the "Hearts" was quickly stopped by Monahan. Jimmy came in with the bases loaded and one out. After walking the first batter, forcing in a run, Jim calmly picked off the third base runner for the second out and struck out the batter, ending the game.

REVISED STAFF TO LEAD SQUAD

Our spiked Monks will be led by a new mentor this year: Coach Robert Flagg. We have all seen him around the school, but not many of us know his background.

Experience Counts

Coach Flagg has been a baseball coach for almost ten years now. These many years of coaching have been distributed at both Rutland High and Wachusett High.

Coaching Ability

Ten years as a coach seems like a long time. We all know how much we learn in school in ten years (most of us). It is the same petition in outdoor basketball and volleyball to be played late in the year.

way in coaching. In a decade, a coach knows how to handle his ball club, and knows what to do when situations arise which face the whole team or a certain individual. Ten years of gathering this kind of knowledge and understanding is more than any team could ask for.

Our Coach's Ideals

As a coach, Mr. Flagg tries to make coaching enjoyable; a pleasure more than a task. To him, and this is most important, a coach should try to bring out the best in a ball player both physically and emotionally; as a coach, he

Teams

Each team in this league has chosen for its name one used in the pro ranks. This adds to the color and interest of the league.

During this campaign, the A.D. expects good participation in this loop. So far the loop has been pretty successful except for one or two rained out tilts. Success now, will mean a great deal as far as next year's activities go. Let's get behind this league and back it all the way.

TO THE STUDENT BODY:

Anyone interested in writing sports for the Heritage is welcome to join the staff of '61-'62. We will be happy to give you assignments in the field of your choice.

Also, anyone interested in sending a letter to the sports editor may do so at any time during the year. The staff hopes that this request will enthruse some of you to come and pitch in. The success of the paper depends on the students.

tries to make himself part of the team and put all his know-how about the sport and reap what they have to offer.

Our Ball Club's Ideals

A ball club should "shoot for the top, win if they can (and they must) and lose if they have to." With desire and ability, we can stay with anyone. Each game is important and should be played as best as possible when it comes.

Our Team Now

Thus far, player for player, we won't have to take a back seat to anyone because of our ability. We have a good number of holdover juniors and seniors and some freshmen and sophomores of whom we will be proud. Right now we have the stuff to make a good ball club.

Let's All Back Our SPIKED MONKS.

Award Night For Winter Sports

On Wednesday evening, April 26, the winter sports athletes were honored by the student body at the annual Sports Awards Night.

Bob Kenney, receiving the most valuable player award, the best foul shooter trophy, and an All-City plaque, topped the field of Prep trophy and letter winners. Our other tri-captains, Jim Monahan and "Mike" Malkemus, also received individual recognition for the great part they played in leading the "Monks" to championship fame.

Norm Tremblay, the hoopsters' hard-working manager, was presented a special award for his outstanding service to the team.

Rollie Laroche, our outstanding goalie, was picked as the hockey team's most valuable player.

Joe Petty of WTAG, whose talk was well-thought-of by all present, received a scroll for his outstanding work covering schoolboy athletics.

Holy Cross star Jack Foley, class of '58, narrated films of the recent Holy Cross-Providence College tilt in the National Invitational Tourney.

Father Oliver presented the basketball team with jackets.
