Dr. Aaron T. Beck is director of the Center for Cognitive Therapy at the University of Pennsylvania. He established an international reputation as "the Father of Cognitive Therapy" by pioneering the formulation of cognitive models of various psychiatric disorders, and developing and testing specific psychotherapeutic applications to the disorders.

Dr. Beck's research has received awards from the American Psychiatric Association, American Psychological Association, and the American Psychopathological Association. He received the Albert Einstein Award from the Albert Einstein School of Medicine, the Louis Dublin Award from the Association of Suicidology, the Annual Research Award from the American Suicide Foundation, and the Westwood Lodge Award.

He is author of nine books, including Depression: Causes and Treatment, Cognitive Therapy and the Emotional Disorders, and Love is Never Enough.

He has been the honoree of the Stone Lectureship at Harvard University and the Thomas Salmon Lectureship of the New York Academy of Medicine. He received an honorary Doctorate of Medical Science from Brown University, where he serves as a member of the Corporation Committee on Medical Education. He received the highest honor accorded to a faculty member at the University of Pennsylvania: University Professor. He also received a MERIT award from the National Institute of Mental Health for his investigations of suicide.

He is currently engaged in systematic outcome studies of the cognitive therapy of cocaine abuse, avoidant personality disorder, compulsive personality disorder, chronic depression, and rapid cycling bipolar affective disorder.

The various inventories and questionnaires developed by Beck are widely used in research and clinical practice. The Beck Depression Inventory, Beck Hopelessness Scale, and Beck Suicide Ideation Scale, three of his scales, are among the most widely used.

His research in psychopathology has identified specific risk factors for suicide and specific psychological configurations in depression, anxiety disorders, and personality disorders.

A recent study by the Institute of Scientific Information indicated that Beck's published research articles between 1986 and 1991 are among the six most frequently cited in psychological literature. He has been named among the top seven psychotherapists in a survey published in the American Psychologist and among the top three psychotherapists in a survey published in the Canadian Psychologist.

In addition to its scientific merit, Dr. Beck's work in cognitive therapy has helped to refocus psychology's attention on the problems of freedom, choice and responsibility.

Medallion of the President of Assumption College

The shield on the seal is divided into four sections by the Cross, symbol of Christ, denoting the College as a Catholic Institution. It is a "fleurdelisée" Cross, a reminder that the College is located in the Diocese of Worcester, which also has this style Cross on its coat of arms. On the Cross is an open book, representing the Gospel, which is the foundation of teaching at a Catholic institution, and also representing the Liberal Arts, which seek to lead the student to knowledge and wisdom. On the book are the letters ART (Adveniat Regnum Tuum or Thy Kingdom Come) a phrase from the Lord's Prayer which is the motto of the Assumptionists who founded the College in 1904. In the upper left quarter is the monogram of Mary with a crown above it, a symbol of the Blessed Virgin Mary in her Assumption. In the lower right quarter is the fleur-de-lis, a reminder of the French origins of the founding religious order.

The Medallion is suspended by a chain the links of which consist of the letter "M" with a crown representing the Queenship of the Blessed Virgin Mary, Our Lady of the Assumption, patroness of the College.

This presidential medallion was designed, created, and given as a gift to Assumption College by John Cavanagh of Greenville, Rhode Island.

The Assumption College Mace

In medieval times, a mace was a spiked war club, an effective weapon in combat. Later it became a symbol of authority, and in the context of an academic community, it has often signified teaching authority.

At Assumption College, education promotes self-discovery; but the true discovery of self must first take into account one's nature and purpose. The symbolism of the mace reflects the simple but essential elements that make for a full and responsible consideration of self, within the broader context in which there can be a full blossoming of the individual.

An education at Assumption nurtures the growth of specific habits or, more precisely, virtues. These include the Intellectual Virtues, which guide the student to Truth; the Moral Virtues (prudence, justice, fortitude, and moderation), which enable a person to lead a good life; and, most important of all, as Saint Paul and Saint Augustine would say, the Theological Virtues (faith, hope, and charity) which lead the Christian to ultimate happiness. The lettering in Latin on the three bands of the sterling node states simply the thrust of these essential Virtues: Intelligentia Adducitur Veritatem; Voluntas Adducitur Bonum; Cor Adducitur Amorem. The staff could be considered a "lignum vitae" (tree of life), from which the Virtues spring. The three upper branches of ebony and gold represent the Virtues and their impact upon everyone at the College, symbolized by the multi-faceted fluorite stone.

At Assumption, it is the community's shared vision that fosters a full flowering of the individual. The three blossoms of gold from the blue fluorite represent the individual coming to full maturity in Christ, in accord with the College's motto "Until Christ be formed in you."

The Assumption College Mace was conceived, designed, created and given as a gift to Assumption College by Paul A. Cavanagh of Greenville, Rhode Island.

Assumption College Alma Mater

Lyrics: Beverly Shaw Johnson (1985)    Melody: Christe sanctorum (Antiphone, Paris, 1681)

1. Pledge we our loy-al-ty to As-sump-tion Col-lege
2. Our hearts will al-ways be with As-sump-tion Col-lege

Whose de-di-ca-tion in pur-suit of know-ledge
Her ban-ners wa-ving with out-stand-ing cou-ra-ge

With-stands the test of time, aids us in our on-ward climb
Call for fi-de-li-ty and protect a spi-rit free

In search of truth and light.
Long live the blue and white!
